Will you share my personal details with other people?

Graham Smith - 2014-03-14 - Security / Privacy

The information on your personal profile is shared with other users on your Kahootz site. Your name will be shown against items you create or modify, with a pop-up link to those details should your colleagues need to contact you.

We will not share your details with people outside of your site. Kahootz is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected.
